LONG ISLAND.

Mortality in Brooklyn.

The Health Office reports eighty-eight deaths, as having occurred during the week, ending the 7th inst., from the following:

Diseases.—Abscess, brain, atrophy, bronchitis, cancer, bilious cholic, congestion of the brain, croup, dysentery, [illegible], fever, inflammation of the bowels, inflammation of the lungs, killed, premature birth, sub-acute, ulcers of intestines, unknown—2 each. Cholera infantum, congestion of the lungs, cholera morbus, dropsy of the brain, typhoid fever, heart disease, old age, marasmus, [illegible]—3 each. Consumption, dropsy in the head, inflammation of the brain, teething—5 each. Consumption, decrease—6 each. Diarrhoea; measles; 10; cholera infantum, 15; [illegible]; [illegible]; adults, 25; minors, 33. Total—88.

The Rapelyea-street Tragedy.

The parties under arrest for the killing of the brothers Johnson in Raymond-street, Brooklyn, on Sunday morning last, were on Saturday brought before Justice Daniel K. Smith for examination. There being no evidence to criminate Patrick Scanlay or Michael McGuire, they were discharged. The examination of Gorman, the one who is alleged committed the murder, has not been concluded. The evidence in the case in purport as that brought out before the Coroner and published in the Times. Henry F. Curtis, Esq., appears as counsel for the accused.

☞ House No. 159 Duffield-street was entered about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and robbed of a large quantity of silver ware and jewelry, while the family were absent at church.

NEW-JERSEY.

Warning to the Owners of Fruit Stands.

Notice has been given to the owners of the fruit, flower, candy and gingerbread stands, which on Sundays abound on the route from the Ferry to the Elysian Fields in Hoboken, that hereafter they will not be allowed to encumber the walks or streets. There were fifty-six of these stands in operation on Sunday last, of which number only about one dozen of the owners are residents of Hoboken.

Amusements.

Notwithstanding the cool evenings of the past week, the theatres (what few are open) have not been well attended. Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams at the Broadway Theatre have appeared in a succession of well established plays, and altogether have done moderately well. Still there is room for improvement, both in the houses and the manner in which the pieces have been put on the stage. At Burton's Theatre they work very hard, play three or four pieces every night, and generally strive, in a deserving way, to secure public support. The Pyne and Harrison troupe at Niblo's are drawing better houses now. Fitzwilliam's new opera, the "Queen of a Day," will be repeated to-night. There are many excellent bits in the music, and it is not beyond the capabilities of the artists. Miss Louisa Pyne introduces Benedict's popular aria, "The Skylark." At the Museum there has been an infinity of moderately good pieces and remunerative audiences. In the way of negro minstrelsy we have but two companies now in New-York, Geo. Christy & Wood's, No. 472 Broadway, and Perham's, No. 663, where the Alleghanians will give a series of performances, commencing on Wednesday. John R. Smith's grand tour of Europe and Siege of Sebastopol, No. 539 Broadway, attracts fair audiences. It is a deserving work of art, instructive and amusing. The German Opera Company at Wallack's Theatre exploded on Monday last,—nothing heard of the fragments. The French Vaudeville Company are producing here the celebrated drama "Les Filles de Marbre."

Houses.

The members of Mr. Hullah's upper singing classes gave their last Concert on the 30th June at St. Martin's Hall, London. The programme contained some [illegible] works by masters; amongst others, Sebastian Bach's motet, "I Waits and Prays," for two choirs and three solo voices; Mendelssohn's Psalm, for two choirs, "Why Rage the Heathen?" Marcello's Psalm, "A te Signor," and Orcon's motet, "Thou art Beautiful." The last named is a profound composition of a great Italian Harmonist, full of intricate counterpoint and imitative and responsive passages of great dignity. The London papers speak very highly of the singing of the pupils.

Verdi's new opera, "Les Vêpres Siciliennes," is attracting immense crowds to the Grand Opera, Paris. The French journals pretty nearly all agree that the libretto is a bad one, although from the extensive manufactory of M. Scribe. One critic says: "In a very brief preface, prefixed to the libretto, in which, anticipatory of the [illegible] the librettist, in a remarkable liberties to historical facts, are [illegible] to call forth his [illegible] to treat the 'Vespre Siciliane' as mere invention, and hence claims the privilege of dressing up the story à sa façon." As regards the music, every one who agrees on one point—it is not equal to the "Trovatore."

The indefatigable dramatist, Mr. Tom Taylor, produced a new piece at the Adelphi Theatre on the occasion of Madame Celeste's benefit. It is called "Helping Hands," and was written to measure for Mr. Webster. The hero is a distressed old medical enthusiast who loves nothing in the world so much as the Shakspeare violin and his busts of Bach and Beethoven. His household gods are seized for debt, but are ultimately restored to him by helping hands. There is much pathos and much feeling in the piece. Mr. Webster's delineation of his hero is highly praised.

At the American, Miss Laura Keene, Mr. Jordan, and others, are playing in a piece called the "Millionaire, or the Gentleman's Coat." This piece is from the pen of W. H. Lemay, and was first played in Philadelphia some years ago. It was enthusiastically received in San Francisco, but does not appear to draw large houses.

At the last Concert, given by the pupils of the London Academy of Music, Spohr's beautiful opera, "Anna and Zemira," was given scarcely an inadequate produced at Covent Garden some five and twenty years ago. The manner in which the airs, concerted pieces, and choruses were sung did great honor to the pupils as well as their instructors.

Mr. Dion Boucicault is to be the lessee of the New-Orleans Varieties. This establishment has been recommended by a Committee of wealthy stockholders, and will be, when finished, one of the largest and handsomest theatres in America. It would be difficult to [illegible]

The magnificent [illegible] of Madame Ristori in the tragedy of "Giria" (being the dramatic version of the Norma Sonnambula) has excited a fever in the theatres wherever she has appeared in a certain [illegible] where the excitement of our theatres may [illegible].

Mr. Payne has secured the license of the Academy of Music. The successes of Mr. Ullmann have been magnificent—[illegible] the Academy will remain exactly as a hotel, Saturday excepted.

At the Holliday-street Theatre, Baltimore, they are playing a piece called "Salem; or, The Know Nothing Exposed." The Charleston Theatre was opened for a single performance on Saturday; "Jack Sheppard" the leading attraction.

An English company is playing in Paris, under the direction of Mr. Wallack, who is the star of tragedies of the troupe. The season opened with "Macbeth." There is also a small ballet company, represented by Mr. Marshall and Miss Rosina Wright.

The Festival of the "Three Choirs" Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 21st, 22d, 23d and 24th of August, are fixed upon for the next meeting of the three celebrated English Choirs of Worcester, Hereford and Gloucester, at Hereford.

A performance of private theatricals under the direction of Mr. Charles Dickens is to take place on the 10th July at Campden House, Kensington. Tickets five dollars. Proceeds in aid of the Sanatorium for Consumption and Diseases of the Chest.

Miss J. M. Davenport took a farewell benefit on the 15th, at the Metropolitan, just prior to her departure. The house was crowded in every part. "Camille," and the "Jew's Little Agent," were the pieces.

Josh Silsbee is playing a round of Yankee characters at the Stockton Theatre. The prices have been reduced to suit the times. One dollar for the dress circle, and fifty cents for the upper tier.

There are three bands of music now performing regularly at Saratoga; Munck's at the United States Hotel, Wagner's at Congress Hall, and Weber's at Union Hall.

Mr. Couldock took his benefit at the Cleveland Theatre on Saturday night, appearing in "Richard the Third." Miss Logan and her sister commence an engagement to-night.

Miss Eliza Hensler will give a concert in Springfield, Mass., on Wednesday next, the 11th. She will be assisted by her sister, Miss Louisa Hensler, and Mr. Frank Howard.

Mr. Henry Farren and Miss Louisa Howard are still at the People's Theatre, St. Louis. The "St. Louis Theatre" closed on the Fourth.

Francois Ravel, with Yrca Mathias and a ballet company, make their first appearance to-night at the Walnut-street Theatre, Philadelphia.

Mr. Fisher (formerly of Burton's) is playing a star engagement at the Purtan Royal, Montreal; also Miss Agnes, a pupil of Mr. Fisher's.

The Ohio State Musical Festival takes place at Cleveland on the 17th July and four following days. Conductors, Messrs. Mason, Bradbury and Cady.

Miss Maggie Mitchell (who rejoices in the title of the "Star of the West") is playing at the Chicago Theatre.

Mdlle. Parodi's Concert Troupe was, at last accounts, in Detroit. On Saturday last they sang at the Firemen's Hall.

Gabriel Ravel, the Martinetti Family and a ballet Company commence a Summer season in the Howard Athenaeum, Boston, to-night.

Mr. Marshall, of the Broadway Theatre, and Mr. Barry, of the Boston Theatre, have gone to Europe to secure stars for the forthcoming season.

A theatrical agent announces he is engaged by "several leading 'stars' and numerous respectable members of the profession." Rather a hard hit then.

Signor Bottini, Madame Gassier and Signor Gassier, are said to be on the eve of departure for America.

Mrs. Fanny Kemble is giving a fresh series of Shakspearian readings at the Marylebone Institute, London.

The Opera company at the Haymarket (where Mr. and Mrs. Sims Reeves have been singing) was to terminate on the 25th.

An English Opera is still going on at the Surrey Theatre under the direction of Messrs. Rowen. Mdlle. Nau and Mr. St. Albyn are the newest attractions.

The Barili-Thorne Italian opera troupe are now playing at the Metropolitan Theatre, San Francisco.

The Misses Denin were at the Troy Museum on Friday last, playing for the benefit of Young Dimond.

The season at the Lyceum, Hartford, Conn., terminated on Saturday evening, with a benefit.

Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne commenced an engagement at the Athenaeum, Cleveland, to-night.

Fall of a Building—One Man Killed and Two Injured.

About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a four story brick building at No. 85 Pearl street, near Vine, owned by Charles Urban, cafe manufacturer, fell with a tremendous crash, killing one man named Frederick Klineman, and injuring two others, named John Kelly and Wm. River, but not seriously. From the evidence given before the Coroner, the work of removing the old wall was commenced one week ago, and in doing so, a large amount of old mortar and pieces of brick accumulated on the third and fourth story floors, the weight of which caused the shores to give way, and so doubtless the building to fall. The wreck was complete, for there is only a part of the lower story left standing, and that is greatly injured. Klineman was engaged in removing the wall when the accident occurred. He was caught by the joists in the third story, and killed instantly. Klineman leaves a wife and three children. The Coroner's Jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts. They, however, gave the following as the cause of the accident:

"From the insufficiency of the shearing and bracing, and of the overloading the floors with brick and mortar in taking down the walls."—Cincinnati Gazette, July 7.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ Dr. Agnew's Tropical DYSENTERY AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY—is now offered to the public, after having been used in private practice many years with astonishing success. It is the result of the experience of a medical man acting as surgeon in our army in Mexico, and on board California steamships. It will keep for any length of time, and can be taken in cold water. It is entirely unfrost from the usual tampering and uncertain methods of treatment, relieving the most alarming cases in a few hours, either infant or adult. This never-failing remedy may be had of most of the druggists, and at the General Agency, No. 22 Beekman st., up stairs, New-York.

WM. B. RODGE & CO., Proprietors.

DR. TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA.

☞ Is at this season most invaluable as a Renovator and

PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD.

It not only creates new, rich and pure blood, but it will effectually carry off all putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, and

KEEP THE BLOOD PURE.

One great recommendation for using this Sarsaparilla is that every bottle of it is manufactured under the direct superintendence of the most celebrated Chemist and Physician in this country, and his certificate attached to each bottle guarantees that it is "PURELY VEGETABLE, AND WITHOUT MERCURY."

There has never yet been a medicine presented to the public which has so effectually sustained its character for "PURIFYING THE BLOOD AS DR. TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA," and the fact that it has entirely superseded all other preparations claiming the same properties, alone speaks volumes in its favor.

THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE.

Only purify the Blood, and disease must vanish.

THE GREAT PAIXHAN OF THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.
CONE CUT CORNERS; THE EXPERIENCES OF A CONSERVATIVE FAMILY IN FANATICAL TIMES. BY BENAULEY.

[illegible] 12mo. Cloth. Price $1 25.

The announcement that a Book is a Temperance Tale, so far from exciting interest in it, tends rather to the reverse, preventing scruple readers from desiring any further acquaintance with it. This state of things arises, perhaps, from the fact that so many, from inscipid Temperance Tales, have been published. Authorized publishers have too need to think the subject itself possessed of so little interest that it was quite unnecessary the book should have any. Practically, at least, this has seemed to be so. Not so, however, is "Cone Cut Corners." This is a Temperance Tale, in some respects, if not in a Temperance Tale, in spirit and order. It is a book of real substance; a book which was worthy of being published; and this is vastly more than can be said of nine-tenths of the lesser productions of the press. "Cone Cut Corners" is pronounced by one of the leading Anti-Maine Law journals of the Metropolis, "The Great Paixhan of the Temperance Cause" while the Boston Post styles it "a sort of Uncle Tom for the friends of Temperance." Notices of the book are beginning to come in, extracts from some of which we shall present from time to time. To-day we give a single extract from the Boston Post, a paper whose sparkling wit, excellent reparteed and genial humor are famous all over the land, and whose editor can appreciate these qualities in the writings of another, whether he be a political partisan or antagonist.

From the Boston Post.

"Those of our readers who like dry and sharp, but genial humor, will not regret taking up 'Cone Cut Corners.' It is a book of a thousand—a book, perhaps, of a million—considered as an American work. It is very nicely written. Indeed, spoken generally, it has but one fault, and even this is not a fault, so far as readers are concerned. The book is a palpable, pervading, undeniable imitation of Dickens, and this fact, hurtful to the reputation of the author, may be an attraction to the purchaser. Dickens himself is acquainted with the fact and good of Connecticut life, could never have produced anything better than some of the characters and descriptions of 'Cone Cut Corners.' Everybody be rash enough to deny that Dickens himself might have written the book; but to say, first and foremost, in general manner are concerned, we advise him to read 'Cold Night,' at the beginning of the tale, or any three consecutive pages, or the end of it; but there is no mistake, 'Cone Cut Corners' is as much Dickens as if Dickens himself had written it, saving that it has little of the pathetic. But imitator or no imitator, the writer, whoever he is, has original fun, humor, native and knowledge of human nature within him." "'Cone Cut Corners' (start not so old man of Boston!) is written in favor of the Maine Liquor Law. But the book is not a mere temperance tale. No; the author knew too much to make it any such wash. The temperance' does not form its staple by any means. It is introduced slyly and naturally, and its features bear no greater proportion to the entire tale than drinking or drunkenness in society do to the world. Now you see it, and now you don't; as the man calls out with the pea and the thimbles. And in advocating a prohibitory law, also, the volume is hence reminds one of Dickens—the lawyer in temperance as Dickens introduces Dick—the Boys Hall, the prisons, pauperism, and the Court of Chancery—no hoot offence, and with great effect. In fact, as we said before the book might have been written by Dickens, and if we were to allow the latter but the self same characters, we doubt whether he would have written it better." "We advise our readers to look at 'Cone Cut Corners;' they will be sure to like it. A very noticeable feature is its very ingenious and well executed illustrations, that are fully equal to the best imported."

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION,
BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
Professor in Diseases of Women.
One Hundred Edition (600 000) 18mo, pp. 250
[On fine paper, extra binding, $1.]

Every woman can here discover, by comparing her own symptoms with those described, the nature, character and cause of her complaint, and be spared much anxiety and suffering. The wife about to become a mother finds a rich need of instruction and advice in respect to her situation, which she will here find.

This book tells her what is the matter, and tell her what to do for it, in simple but chaste words, and such as she can understand.

Those suffering from obstructions or irregularities peculiar to the female system, or from prolapsus uteri (falling of the womb,) or from fluor albus, will each find in its pages the means of prevention, amelioration and relief.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Dayton, Ohio.

DAYTON, May 1, 1847.

Dr. A. M. Mauriceau—My Dear Sir—My wife has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or more, in consequence of great anguish and suffering some months before and during confinement; every successive one more and more debilitated and prostrated her, putting her life in imminent danger, and which was on the last occasion despaired of. I supposed that this state of things was inevitable, and resigned myself to me the worst. I heard your book highly spoken of, accentuating some matters reaching my ears. On its receipt and perusal I cannot express to you the relief it afforded my distressed mind, and the joy its pages imparted to my wife, embracing, thus the great discovery of M. M. Decomeaux provided a remedy. It opened a prospect to me which I little conceived was possible. But for this, ere another year would have passed over my head, in all human probability my wife would have been to her sorrowing relatives and friends no more.

GOURAUD'S LIBRARY OF ROMANCE.
JULIA WRIGHT—CANTO XXXIX.

Her once DARK skin was white as drifted snow;
And CLEAR as any alabaster vase;
Red as a rosy sunset was the glow
That mingled with the lilies of her face;
Upon her sweet lip and majestic brow
Not one superfluous hair the eye might trace!
Her locks—which once were of a glossy jet—
Now hung in JETTY tresses from her head!

No wonder Mindyorne was startled by seeing this lovely creature; for he was not aware that GOURAUD'S ITALIAN MEDICATED SOAP had removed her Tan, Pimples, Freckles, Sallowness, Redness, Roughness, Chapped Chapes, &c.! GOURAUD'S LIQUID ROUGE had transmuted the "rosy sunset glow" to her pale cheeks! GOURAUD'S POUDRE SUBTILE had eradicated superfluous hair from her lip and brow! GOURAUD'S HAIR DYE had transformed her "dusky red locks" into "jetty tresses;" in short, to Dr. F. GOURAUD (whose only depôt is at No. 67 Walker-st., first door from Broadway) this was indebted for her transcendent beauty! Sold by Mrs. HAYES, Broadway.

LUXURIANT WHISKERS OR MOUSTACHE produced in six weeks' time by Dr. ONGUENT, which will remain in before the skin. Price, $1 a bottle; large bottles, containing more than three times the quantity, $2. Sent to any part of the country. R. G. GRAHAM, No. 36 Broadway; HAYES, No. 72 Fulton-st.; Brooklyn, SPALDING, No. 3 Pierrepont-st.; Boston, ERIGGS, No. 10 Court-st.; Albany, [illegible]
